.. This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war

HERE IT IS.
The Daily Kentuckian appears this morning without the contemplated change to a seven-column paper. This is due to the advertising that made additional pages necessary. The paper will come out in the change of form to-morrow. The Daily has been delayed and handicapped in many ways, and even now is starting with an incomplete working force. We shall strive to make the new enterprise popular with its readers and spare no efforts to make it a welcome visitor to your breakfast table. It will be found full of news right up to date and delivered on the day of publication to all parts of the county.

John E. Redmond, Irish nationalist leader, who recently underwent an operation for intestinal obstruction, died in London Wednesday of heart failure.

Mrs. Sally Gold, of Brooklyn, N. Y., 102 years old, who had always wanted to vote, was at last gratified, which proves that "all things come to those who wait."

The next draft is expected to call into service about 40,000 negroes. They have not been called heretofore because it was deemed inadvisable to send them to Southern camps and unwise to send them north in winter. As most of them are farm laborers, the call is expected to have a very important bearing on the labor problem in the South.

A new order says that men called out on the second draft will be used to fill up the army and complete its organization. No new divisions will be created in 1918. Gen. Crowder is expected soon to outline the manner in which the men are to be summoned gradually during the year. Delay in the draft machinery is believed to be due to the uncertainty as to the method of allotting quotas to each State and to pending legislation.

It is off again and on again in Russia. The evacuation of the Bolshevik Government and populace at Petrograd has begun and diplomats will not stay to ratify the peace treaty. Trotsky declares the Russians are ready to fall back as far as a holy war will be declared to circumvent the plans of Germany. No definite decision has been made by Japan regarding the invasion of Siberia. In the peace parliaments with Rumania the Teutonic Allies are making hard demands, which will have to be submitted to, since Rumania is entirely cut off from her allies.

After what seemed to be a successful attempt to delay and defeat action, the resolution condemning Senator La Follette was passed by a vote of 5 to 32 in the State Assembly of Wisconsin. The resolution as passed by the Senate a week ago, and by the Assembly, follows:

"The people of the State of Wisconsin always have stood and always will stand behind the National Government in all things which are essential to bring the present war to a successful end and we condemn Senator Robert La Follette and all others who have failed to see the righteousness of our nation's cause, who have failed to support our Government in matters vital to the winning of the war, and we denounce any attitude or utterance of theirs which has tended to incite sedition among the people of the country and to injure Wisconsin's fair name before the free people of the world."

BRITISH WOMEN ON A WAR BASIS

"Grannies" Now Wear Overalls and Put in Time Sewing.

ALL ARE DOING THEIR BIT

The "Society" butterfly of the Past Has Become the National Bee of the Present—The Bashful "Flapper" is Now an Alert Young Woman Who Beguiles Shillings for Charitable Purposes.

The war has wrought great changes upon the occupations, vocational, and otherwise, of the women of England. A picture of the new order of things was given recently by Margaret Bell, writing in the London Daily Mail. She says:

"Boarding houses are full today, but the aims and conversations have taken on a different tone. The uncertain years are disguised under a uniform, the incomes are augmented by war activities, the trivial gossip has turned into serious discussions on the ways and means to do the utmost for the country in its present need."

"The 'society' butterfly of the past has become the national bee of the present, and busily hums her way among fields of service which are not always fields of clover."

Old Women in Overalls.
"Gone are the grandmothers who once assumed the role of elderly adviser and were content to leave actual practicalities to the married daughter. The one-time gray satin or black lace has found a temporary haven on some obscure shelf, and the overalls and veil of a sewing sisterhood are sufficient evidence that granny's present role is not only an advisory one."

"The shy 'flapper,' with errant pig-tails and a keen appreciation of chocolate ice cream sodas has given way to the alert young woman who beguiles shillings for charitable purposes and evinces practical interest in the routine of house and kitchen maid."

"The woman of no especial charms and limited means, whose hours were spent in planning how to make jagged ends meet, now finds time to give the benefit of her experience to unfledged housewives who are launching their first barques on the sea of domestic duties."

Discards Her Lethargy.
"The struggling governess still struggles, but the rays of her pedagogical searching are not all focused on her own work. On days when she is not employed in others' houses she does gratuitous service among the workwomen's children who play in the gutters outside her home."

"The war has transformed the lethargic woman who never left her boudoir until the sound of the luncelone gong came peeling up the stairs and announced that her first activities were about to begin. She has discarded her lethargy, as she used to discard her last season's hat, and may be seen many mornings hurrying away to some office or canteen, even before the milk-maids' carts have left the streets."

"Gone, too, is the incapable housewife who once boasted of her ignorance of culinary things. The kitchen is the field of her operations today and rational living is her hobby."

THE FLAG, YOUR FLAG AND MINE

By FRANK BRANAN.
(Of the Vigilantes.)
Azure blue of the far-off sky,
Starry sweep of a nation's eye,
Emblem of glory that cannot die—
The Flag, your flag and mine.

Crimson stripes of heroes' blood,
(Freak with a never-failing food)
Sacred, unsullied, unfurled to God—
The Flag, your flag and mine.

ITALY TO COLOR PETROL

Plans Thus to Trace Sales of Army Owned Gasoline.

All petrol in Italy is used exclusively for army service and hardly any is available for private motor traffic. Automobile owners, however, by paying prohibitive prices occasionally succeed in securing petrol destined for the army and detection is difficult owing to impossible identification of the petrol so used.

In order to simplify matters the army authorities have decided to color all the petrol, and as the dyes used after repeated experiments are permanent, it follows that a mere examination of the petrol used for private consumption is sufficient to trace its origin and justify immediate legal proceedings for its fraudulent use.

PUPILS MAKE GUN CLEANERS

Wisconsin School Children Manufacture 10,000 of Them.
Having completed 10,000 gun cleaners for the Menasha (Wis.) men serving with the troops now encamped in Texas, public school children of this city have staged work on the manufacture of another 10,000 shipment of cleaners. The articles are made from waste material and all the work is done in the rooms of the Red Cross by children ranging in age from seven to seventeen years.

REAL FIGHTING WHEN U.S. STARTS

Canadian Officer Praises Officers and Men of American Army in France.

EXPECTED TO WIN THE WAR

Come in at Time When Strain of Long Fighting is Beginning to Show on Both Allies and the foe—German Tactics Simple.

Chicago.—"The Germans must strike now or never," wrote Maj. George W. MacLeod, second in command of the Forty-ninth Canadian battalion, and one of the veterans of the hardest fighting the Canadians have seen in France, in a letter to Capt. A. Wallace Owen of the British-Canadian recruiting mission in this city. Captain Owen is attached to the Forty-ninth battalion.

"All we can do is to say, 'Let the battle commence,'" the letter continues. "Every one is anticipating a big German offensive either against ourselves or the French. There never has been such close co-operation as exists at the present time between ourselves and the French, and if the Boche starts anything he may get the surprise of his life."

Pleased With Americans.
"Every one is very much pleased with the Americans over here. They are a splendid looking lot of officers and men, and their manners and attitude leave nothing to be desired. Once they start in I think that the Germans will have some real fighting to handle."

"One is gradually beginning to realize the meaning of the expression a 'war of attrition.' With the enormous slaughter which has been in progress for over three years the Germans and ourselves are beginning to show the strain. We see it in the type of officers and men as regards physique. Our training possibly counteracts to a certain extent this loss of physique, but I would not care to see the average unit of today placed alongside its former self. Similarly with the rest of the belligerents. It is at this juncture that the Americans arrive, and one is immediately struck with their appearance. The first million men from the United States army should nearly be able to finish the war provided they are not used in dribbles. Given a completely new army, say of two full corps, or possibly three, in the spring and the end of the war should be not long postponed."

German Tactics Simple.
"I do not think that we are at the last ditch by any means. We have been in tight corners before, and will no doubt sweep our way out of the present one. A German offensive put on simultaneously against the French and ourselves at the present time would, however, make it fairly stiff going."

"I doubt, however, if the German is really sufficiently strong to do this: i. e., two determined sustained offensives. That he will use diverse tactics is probable. He must finish the job this winter, or he never will, and all we can do is to meet the blow when it comes, or, possibly anticipate that blow by one of our own. The German grand strategy has never been anything but simple. His tactics are different. His strategy has been simply to wear down the forces opposed to him until a stage is reached when he can attack."

PRICES JUMP IN 25 YEARS

Wisconsin Farmer Makes Interesting Comparison Between Prices in 1892 and Now.

Portage, Wis.—E. R. Studenmayer, who has been engaged in farming in this locality for the past quarter of a century, has made a comparison between prices prevalent in 1892 and those of 1918. Here's what he found: Hogs in 1892 were $2.90, now $16; cattle $2.50, now $10; rye 40 cents, now $1.85; wheat 45 cents, now $2.20; potatoes 10 cents, now $1; butter 15 cents, now 50 cents; eggs 8 cents, now 42 cents; cord wood $2.50, now $7.50; bran $15, now $40; hay $5, now $20, and oats 13 cents, now 75 cents. The farmer says these are only a few of the changes, and while agriculturists are obtaining decidedly better prices than 25 years ago, they are compelled to pay more for what they buy.

FOUND FATHER WAS AWAKE

Young Man Slides Down Chimney While Trying to Dodge Sweet-heart's Parent.

Yonkers, N. Y.—Don Botell went to see his sweetheart recently when the father was believed to be asleep. Father was awake.

Don dodged several pieces of furniture, then took to his heels. So did father. Don went up a back stairway to the roof and across neighboring roofs. So did father.

A large chimney appeared friendly and Don shot down. Father did not. He was too fat. Don arrived in the midst of a holiday gathering, but too late to play Santa Claus. He was held by members of the surprised family and turned over to the police. He spent the night in jail and later promised the court never again to force himself into the home of any girl's father. Don was released.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered a terrible misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

DOG GOES NEARLY 400 MILES TO JOIN MASTER.

(By International News Service.)
Sutton, W. Va., March 6.—A common yellow cur owned by Hugh McQuain, of Indian Fork, now stationed at Camp Lee, will not let war keep him away from his master. About three weeks ago the dog disappeared. Later a letter was received from McQuain saying the dog had turned up at Camp Lee. The distance is nearly 400 miles.

WOMAN HONORED BY FRENCH.

(By International News Service.)
Cincinnati, O., March 6.—An Ohio woman, Miss Jeanne Emma Morhard, has received the badge of the Legion of Honor from the French Government in recognition of her work as head of the Franco-Belgian relief fund in Cincinnati. For twenty-three years Miss Morhard taught French at Hughes High School here.

FRENCH LASSIES COMING, SO THE BOYS PREPARE.

(By International News Service.)
Fitzburg, Mass., March 6.—Young men in this city are beginning to brush up their French. It's all because Lieutenant Charles J. Kilpatrick, an electrician who is organizing lines of communication between battalion units of the United States Army in France, in letters written to friends here, predicts that "thousands of French girls will flock to the United States after the war."

PUTS UP GAME FIGHT.

(By International News Service.)
Bluefield, W. Va., March 6.—A catamount which measured four feet between ears was killed in the mountains near here recently by Robert Ruble. The animal, after being wounded by Ruble, whipped seven of his hounds, and cut the throat of one of them so severely that it died.

SUGAR TO BE ONE OF LAST ITEMS OF RATIONING.

(By International News Service.)
Washington, March 8.—Sugar will be one of the last items on the food list to feel the effect of any rationing programme. Food Administrator Hoover says of it:

"Sugar in household use is a product of 100 years of culinary experience. It makes palatable a number of other food commodities which otherwise would not be palatable. It has very little greater food value than flour. But it has a great culinary value, and it would be disaster to decrease its domestic consumption if it can be avoided."

DRAWS CLOSE MARGINS ON INCOME TAX CHECK.

(By International News Service.)
Springfield, Ill., March 8.—A man at Urbana with an income tax amounting to $1.61 sent Internal Revenue Collector Pickering a check for $1.58, eight-tenths of one per cent more than due, deducting three per cent per annum for payment before June 15. However, the check was dated February 10, giving him only 115 days' discount and the collector fired it back as being a few tenths of a cent short. He could obtain the actual amount, Pickering wrote, by multiplying $1.61 with the decimal .009,452,055.

FARMER EMULATES PUTNAM, OF REVOLUTIONARY FAME.

(By International News Service.)
Boone, Col., March 8.—Israel Putnam, of Revolutionary fame, who cut his horse loose from the plow and hurried to engage in battle against the British, had nothing on his great-grandson, Ralph W. Putnam, a farmer near Boone. When the "war urge" overtook Mr. Putnam he hurried from the farm to the nearest recruiting station, enlisted and left for a cantonment camp, then sent word home by telegraph: "I'm off to grab the German goat."

NO RACE SUICIDE AMONG THIS HERD OF BUFFALO.

(By International News Service.)
Cody, Wyo., March 6.—There's no race suicide among the herd of buffalo that the United States Government maintains at Yellowstone Park. Twenty-five years ago, when Uncle Sam feared the buffalo was becoming extinct, he placed a herd of seventy-five in the preserve here. To-day according to T. G. Frazer, keeper of the herd, there are 320 head. Fifty-six calves have been born during the past six months.
